DEDICATION

Walter P. Kriemelmeier

The Seniors of 1951 dedicate our annual to our sponsor and friend, W.P. Kriemelmeier. He came here this year after having taught at Farnam, Nebraska, for the past 10 years.

Mr. Kriemelmeier was born in Cambridge, Nebraska, on February 12, 1898. He graduated from Cambridge High School in 1916, where he was active in football all 4 years.

He entered the University of Nebraska in 1916, attended 2 years, and then entered the U. S. Army, where he served until December of 1918. After his discharge he farmed, and taught in a country school south of Eckley, Colorado, until 1925, when he returned to the University and graduated in 1927. He was active in sports all 4 years of college, lettering 3 years in football and 2 years in track.

He taught and coached in Haxtun, Colorado, and Bartley, Nebraska; he also was employed in a number of other jobs until he returned to his teaching in Farnam in 1940.

We, the Senior Class, wish him luck and success in the future years.

"OUR ALMA MATER"

The Haigler Public School is located on Norman Street and Logan Avenue. The combination high-school and grade-school building on the left was built in 1914. The gymnasium and auditorium was added in 1936. The buildings are ideally located on a full block so that ample playground space is available for pupils of all ages. Across the street to the north there is an athletic field used for football, baseball, track, and other school activities.

CLASS HISTORY

In the year 1947, there entered into Haigler High School thirteen pupils who were a slight shade of green. These were: Bob Kamla, Ellen Tracy, Don Brown, Dorothy Brown, Harry Redden, Kathleen Havlik, Dale Potthoff, Elgin Glendenning, Virginia Wall, DeLorise Workman, Leota Tucker, Blanche Redden and Vonda Davis. Three girls, Leota Tucker, Blanche Redden, and Vonda Davis dropped out of school and got married.

We had an initiation of course, that we couldn't avoid. The girls had to braid their hair in thirteen pigtails and tie a green ribbon to each. Their jeans were rolled above their knees, while their blouses were wrong-side-out. They had to wear anklets of different colors and weren't allowed to wear any make-up at all. The boys had to have their jeans rolled above their knees, disclosing black stockings held up at the knee by green ribbon garters. They had to have a green ribbon in their hair, shirts wrong-side-out, and they were lucky enough to get to wear make-up.

That night the upper-classmen gave us a party where we played games and were taken on a treasure hunt. The treasure was a big sack of bubble-gum. Besides the school party the social calendar for that year was as follows: a leap year party, chili supper given for the football boys, a formal dance given by the pep club, and the last-day-of-school picnic at Horse Creek. Our teachers for that year were Mr. Jones, Mrs. Whitney, and Mr. Clements.

Our second year began much better as we were not green anymore, but very confident in our ability. This was a busy year for us, as Don, Bob, and Harry played football and all the boys went out for basket-ball. All of the girls were in pep club. Dorothy, Kathleen, and Virginia were in glee-club. Dorothy and Kathleen were cheer leaders.

Our class numbered eleven at the first of the year, but decreased again when Hazelann Hamilton moved to Lincoln in the latter part of February. During that year, the sophomores enjoyed a theatre party at Wray. The show that we saw was "The Babe Ruth Story." We had lots of fun!

At the end of the year, we had a picnic dinner at Kamla's grove and then went to Mahon's swimming. We had a hayrack ride and went to Mahon's grove where we enjoyed a weiner roast and watermelons. Our teachers were Ed Rowley, who was also our class sponsor, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Horner.

Our Junior year was one of the most eventful years in our school days. We had an all school party at the time of Freshman Initiation, and a hayrack ride to Horse Creek. Three of the Junior girls, Dorothy, Kathleen, and Virginia, were on the annual staff to gain experience for the next year. They helped on the advertising part of the 1950 annual.

We received our rings on February 7, and were we ever proud of them. All of the boys got plain gold but Dale. He and the girls ordered black onyx stones. We presented our Junior play "Just Ducky," on April 21. This play drew a lot of fame and compliments to our class and, of course, we thought it was excellent.

On May 2, we gave a banquet for the seniors. We carried out a western theme, and decorated the Legion Hall appropriately with such things as sagebrush, saddles, brands, and lanterns. The meal, which was prepared by the Juniors' mothers, was also in the western mood. We danced afterward to the music of Mr. and Mrs. Horner. At the end of that year we went to Kamla's for a picnic dinner, then scattered, to various points of interest. Our teachers for our Junior year were Mr. Horner, Mrs. Kirkpatrick, and Mr. Swallow.

In the fall of 1950, we started the last year of our carefree high-school days. Out of the thirteen students who began the Freshman year, four girls and all the boys are graduating. Harry and Bob are the only students who have gone all twelve years at Haigler. DeLorise Workman, who was one of our classmates, moved to Max. Also Ira Long, Jr., who had been with us since our Junior year, left school in October. This left us with nine students.

On October 19, Mr. Brooks took the Seniors pictures. We received them January 16, 1951. They are very good and will add considerably to the wall in the assembly next year. We started work on our Senior Annual the second semester. The money which we made was used to cover the expenses of our sneak day. The Freshmen gave an all-school party that everyone enjoyed very much.

We Seniors planned a unique initiation for the Freshman which lasted a week. Everyone enjoyed the week (except, maybe, the Freshmen.) The faculty for our Senior year was composed of three new teachers; Mr. Kriemelmeyer--Superintendent; Mr. France--Principal; and Miss Potts.

Baccalaureate services were held Sunday, May 13. Commencement exercises were held Thursday, May 17, 1951.

CLASS POEM

For 12 long years we've struggled
To get our school work done;
And now we're happy to present
Our Class of '51.

We've done a lot of things together
And had a world of fun.
Oh, you just simply cannot beat
Our Class of '51.

Of all the milkmen that we know
We all like Bob the best;
But keep your bottles quiet, Bob,
We need our beauty rest!

Next comes our class nurse, Ellen,
With hair of brilliant red.
All through the hospital Ellen cleans
And sweeps the dirt under the bed!

He's sure he wants to be a Coach
And really mow them down!
In case you haven't already guessed
His name is Don R. Brown.

Elgin is our Nature Boy,
He is the outdoor kind;
He keeps a large menagerie
Of every animal he can find.

Farewell to carefree High School days!
We're glad our race is won;
We'll see you in the comic strips!
--Our Class of '51.

To be a nurse or not to be?
That is Dorothy's question.
She would make a good housewife,
That is our suggestion.

Harry and his little Ford
Are suited to each other.
This car will serve him very well
'Til he can get another.

McCook will be her hang-out
For all the coming summer;
If Ginnie doesn't watch her step,
Her pupils will overcome 'er.

Well, here comes Dale, the rancher,
We wish him luck, of course;
But, sad to say, he just can't tell
A cow from a saddle horse.

Kathe doesn't hooky-play,
Or cheat, or chew tobacco;
The Army should be her career,
There's no one quite so 'WAC'y!

CLASS WILL

We, the Senior Class of 1951 of Haigler High School, of Haigler, Nebraska, being of sound mind and memory, do make, publish, and declare, this our last will and testament, in manner and form as follows:

We, The Seniors of 1951, dedicate to the Juniors the first two rows of seats in the assembly in hopes that they will do as many amazing things there as we have done in the past.

Bob Kamla wills his ability to play football to Stanley Evans, his good nature to Loyd Zuege, and his hearty chuckle to Roberta Beeson.

Virginia Wall wills her talent of getting in early (!) to Elaine Stute, her variety of shoestrings to Gailen McCoy, and her knowledge of how to get away with things in class to Sam Clegg.

Don Brown wills the remaining pieces of the Chrysler to Dallas Brown, his ability to get along with any woman to Don Wall, and his frail build to Dean Childers.

Ellen Tracy wills to Leslie White the knack of getting the English assignment before class, to her sister Fern her thrifty ways, and to Barbara Martin, her red hair.

Harry Redden wills his capability to run to school after the last bell has rung to Elaine Adams, his bewitching brown eyes to Irene Schwartz, and his expertness in climbing all over buildings to any under-classmen who can get away with it.

Kathleen Havlik wills her straight hair on Monday morning to Marilyn Brust, her ability to talk things over in the language of LOVE to Ronnie Clark, and her ability to climb the hill without shifting into second, to Doris Zuege.

Elgin Glendenning wills his whistle to Jack Sanford, his bird books to Laura Devin, and the northern part of the state to anyone who needs a new subject for their speeches in Dramatics.

Dorothy Brown leaves a button from her coat to Vernon Trembley, to Leon Kinnett she leaves her fingernails so he can protect himself from the upper-classmen, and to Doris Jenkins she leaves her skill in driving a car.

Dale Potthoff leaves his late hours to Marilyn Scrivner, and his little black address book to the Junior boys, who can use it on their sneak day next year, and his efficiency in borrowing things to Merna Workman.

Signed, sealed and delivered this seventeenth day of May, in the Year of Our Lord, A. D. 1951, at the High School Building in Haigler, in the State of Nebraska.

CLASS PROPHECY

As Dorothy and Ellen, carrying their candles (the R. E. A. had gone off), were walking down the corridor of the Haigler Hospital, which they and their husbands had built in 1958. They were reflecting that ten years ago that night they had graduated from high school, and were laughing over some of their stupid escapades, when they heard a scream from Room 13. That being Dale's room, they rushed up to see what he wanted.

There had been a fire in the Redden Hotel across the Street caused by a candle setting the curtains on fire at Harry Jr.'s birthday party. The fire department was working hard to save the hotel, and at last report the fire was under control. Dale woke up and saw the fire in the Redden Hotel and thought his operation had been a failure. Dorothy smoothed his covers and convinced him that he was still on earth, while Ellen ran for a hypo.

When they left Dale's room, they heard the footsteps of Bob still pacing in the hall below. They went down to see if they could give him some moral support. His wife had been admitted that morning with a bad case of tonsillitis. He asked if she was still under ether, and they said she was, but they told him not to worry because she was showing signs of improvement.

They heard the bell from Room 7 ringing, and remembering that as Kathleen's room, they took their candles and went to see what she wanted. She was bursting with curiosity, as usual, and wanted to hear about what had been happening that night. Kathleen was unable to sleep that night because her legs were hurting, so they sat down to have a chat with her. She was being treated for severe burns on the legs. It seems that one of her little "angels" showed his love for his teacher by placing a lighted fire cracker under her desk. You can form your own conclusions from there. While they were talking with Kathleen they heard the door at the end of the hall open.

They hurried to see who could be coming this time of night. When they got there, they saw that it was Don. When asked what they could do for him, Don replied that he wanted to borrow the oxygen tank. They wondered aloud at this strange request, because from all their past experiences with Don, they thought that he had always had plenty of air. Don explained that his Chrysler had a flat tire and since there were no garages open, he thought maybe he could use the oxygen tank from the hospital. His explanation that he could bring the tire in and connect it with the oxygen tank sounded logical enough, so they got Bob to help hook up the tire and oxygen tank. Bob and Don immediately began talking about the deterioration of the Chrysler that had stood up under so much rough treatment at Haigler High School.

A car stopped outside. They wondered what other fate could befall them after such a night. Steps came up to the door, so they opened it to let in whoever was there. It was Virginia, leaning on the arm of her husband. She told them that her ankle was sprained, so they took her in to bandage it. Virginia told them, "Well, the Dodge finally fell apart. I told him and told him that we needed a new one, but he wouldn't listen. When I went to get out tonight, the running board fell off. Oohh! my ankle!"

When the nurses got Virginia's ankle fixed up, and she and her husband had gone, they went back to see how Don and Bob were progressing with the tire. They had managed pretty well, and Don was ready to leave.

This has seemed like quite a strange night to the two tired nurses. They were thinking about Harry and the damage the fire had done, when Harry came over to use the phone. His telephone service had been ruined by the fire. He called the weather bureau to thank them for predicting dry, windy weather so that it could rain to help put out the fire in his hotel. Harry told Dorothy and Ellen that fortunately the fire had done little damage. He had a very thriving business with a hotel and restaurant combination, but the fire wouldn't halt the business.

This news, they thought, should peacefully end the night they had just experienced. New candles had to be lit to make their lighting last until morning. Harry left them striking matches and lighting candles.

A merry whistle pierced the night silence. "Elgin," they both said together. In fact it sounded so much like him, that they hurried to the door to see who it was.

"Hello," Elgin called to them. "What are you doing this time of night?"

"We wondered the same thing about you," the nurses answered back.

"Well," Elgin explained, "I went out snipe hunting last night in the old pick-up that I used to drive to school back in '51. I had gotten my quota of snipes and started back home when I heard a strange knocking in the vicinity of the motor. I examined it, and the only thing I could figure out was that the jet motor that I installed last week was running out of fuel. Now it is sitting back there by the lake, and I have hoofed it all the way to town. My corns are aching, so if you'll excuse me, I'll be going on."

Dorothy and Ellen gave him some corn plasters, bid him a cheery good-morning, and went back to their work, talking about all that had happened that night. This was quite different from the night they had spent ten years ago. Everyone from their class has advanced a long way since then, but still retain their ambition and good humor which was characteristic of them during their school years.

The play presented by the Juniors was "Nowhere Fast", a mystery-comedy which the students chose from several selections. The action took place in a quiet little auto tourist camp with the strange name of "Nowhere." When the bank of a nearby town was robbed of ten thousand dollars and two people were killed in the holdup, the countryside was combed for the dangerous criminals--and all roads seemed to lead to Nowhere. When things began to happen, Rita Adams found herself in the middle of a ready-made plot. Alice found herself in love with, and afraid of, Frank Robins, who did the strangest things. That man in the false beard, Smythe, seemed to be shielding a secret and to be suspicious of everyone, a characteristic soon noted in the inhabitants of the entire camp. When the various plots did unfold, it was a relief to the audience that handsome Robins was not a criminal, but actually a Hollywood star, and that the mysterious Smythe did have a wife.

Because of illness, Barbara Martin, who commenced High School with the present Junior Class, was forced to leave school without the completion of her Sophomore year. At the present time she is taking extension work from the State University to enable her to graduate with her original class.

Thirteen green Freshmen, seeking more knowledge, entered Haigler High School in September, 1950. One of their first tasks was getting up the three long flights of stairs. The thing most dreaded, which gave them the greatest sense of relief when it was over, was freshman initiation. Naturally, they thought the seniors were very rough to them. They had an initiation which was a week long. The freshmen will be remembered as wearing necklaces containing onions, cans, spoons, and cucumbers. The boys carried a doll and wore women's shoes and hats. The girls carried a tractor and wore men's shoes and hats. Both the boys and girls had to wear their clothes backwards and to carry a bucket containing an egg which was autographed by all seniors.

On Friday, January 12, 1951, the freshmen gave an all-school party. Dancing was the highlight of the evening. After delicious refreshments of cake and ice cream, group singing was enjoyed by the high school students.

SUMMARY

In his first year as coach at Haigler High School, Mr. Dean France had a limited number of candidates out for football, most of whom were inexperienced players. During the season several of the players were injured and were unable to take part in several games. Although the team won only one game out of an eight game schedule, they put up a good scrap during all their games.

The lettermen were as follows:

Name	Year	Points
Stanley Evans	Soph.	6
Dallas Brown	Soph.	0
Loyd Zuege	Jr.	0
Leslie White	Jr.	0
Vernon Campbell	Jr.	6
Ronald Clark	Jr.	0
Bob Kamla	Sr.	7
Don Brown	Sr.	53

The season schedule was as follows:

Date	Opponent	Score
September 26	Edson	Haigler 6
September 29	Haigler	Haigler 0
October 6	Parks	Haigler 6

October 27	Haigler	Haigler 13
November 3	Madrid	Haigler 27
November 10	Palisade	Haigler 0

Other promising material for the season of 1951 who did not letter this year are: Don Wall, Leon Kinnett, and Sam Clegg.

The 1950-'51 basketball squad of Haigler High School was chosen from the small number of men, which was ten at the most. They were unable to bring forth a victory even though they played some good, fast, basketball. They lost several games from 1 to 5 points.

They played in the Three-Valley's Tournament at Stratton, Nebr., and the Frenchman Valley Tournament at McCook, Nebraska. They lost the consolation trophy in both tournaments.

Name	Class	Letters	Total Points	Average

BASEBALL SUMMARY

Baseball was selected as the Spring athletic activity for the high school boys. Most of the boys are interested in playing baseball with the American Legion Junior teams in near-by towns during the summer months and there was more interest in baseball than in track.

A schedule of four games was arranged and an extra game was played with Parks.

A limited number of boys again proved to be much of a handicap for the team but they received some valuable experience and instruction in the short season.

Following is the summary of the season to date with one game remaining to be played:

 Front Row: Delbert Wolfe, Dick Stasser, Bobby Brunswig, John Schwartz, Phillip Dexter, and Paul Freehling, Jr.

A Grade School Basketball Team was organized this year and played a full schedule in the newly organized Three Valleys Conference. The team won three and lost six games during their schedule. A Grade School Basketball tournament was held at Haigler on March 7, 8, and 9. The teams placed as follows: Stratton 1st: Max 2nd: Parks 3rd: Haigler 4th. Practice games were played with West 10 which didn't count in the conference, but were good practice for both teams. We hope in years to come these boys will bring into Haigler High School a hard and fighting basketball team. We wish them luck.

The record was as follows:

Dec. 7	28	Max-----20
Dec. 13	12	Parks-----8
