

The Unanimous Declaration of the Thirteen United States of America

When in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them; a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. — That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, — That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such Principles and organizing its Powers in the most secure and lasting manner. In extending to these Colonies separate and equal Station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

He has refused his assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public Good. He has refused to assent to Acts of the Legislature, the most wholesome and necessary for the public Good. He has refused to assent to Acts of the Legislature, the most wholesome and necessary for the public Good.

IN CONGRESS, JULY 4, 1776.

The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America.

When in the course of human events it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them; a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that the causes which impel them to the separation should be explained. We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed, — That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, so that they shall secure most likely to them their Safety and Happiness. No political Government long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shewn, that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while an existing Government, and to reform it when it is necessary, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object, evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security. — Such has been the patient Sufferance of these Colonies, and such has been the necessity which has compelled them to declare their independence, that a free and independent State, separate from all other Kingdoms and States, has by the unanimous consent of the thirteen united States of America, in the Name and by the Authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly proclaimed and declared that these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States, that they are absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connections between them and the Kingdom of Great Britain, ought to be totally dissolved; and that as free and independent States, they have full Power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of right do.

He has exposed his former Tyrannies and Grievances, in a long and artful Manner, and has endeavoured to bring down the Opinions of the People, and to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security. — Such has been the patient Sufferance of these Colonies, and such has been the necessity which has compelled them to declare their independence, that a free and independent State, separate from all other Kingdoms and States, has by the unanimous consent of the thirteen united States of America, in the Name and by the Authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly proclaimed and declared that these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States, that they are absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connections between them and the Kingdom of Great Britain, ought to be totally dissolved; and that as free and independent States, they have full Power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of right do.

And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes, and our sacred Honor.

THE FLAG . . .

Every country has its own flag. Our flag did not always look the way it does today. In the early days the colonists lived in thirteen separate colonies, each with its own flag.

The first days of the Revolutionary War, the colonists carried their old flags into battle. They needed one flag to stand for all the colonies fighting together. The American flag was to have a star and a stripe for each of the thirteen colonies.

The Betsy Ross Flag with the stars arranged in a circle was based on the idea that no colony should take precedence. This flag evolved into our present day flag.

All other flags soon disappeared after the Stars and Stripes was adopted, yet the insignia shown on some of them appears occasionally on a state flag.

I believe in the United States of America as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic, a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes. I therefore believe it is my duty to my country to love it, to support its constitution, to obey its laws, to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies.

CLASS HISTORY

In 1964 a group of six youngsters entered Haigler School. They were Kendra Mann, Larry Webster, Lee Goodell, Kevin Smith, Jerry Blecha, and Dale Sass.

During our first grade we lost Kevin but we gained Tom Roundtree, Grant Trembly, Kelly Cunningham, Ginger Trembly, and Debra Sanford.

The next year Jerry was held back and Tom left us to go to Parks.

As third graders Betty Meyers joined our group but Debra left us. Steve Bowman joined us the next year.

As we started in the fifth grade we had lost Dale, Steve, and Betty but we gained Ron Smith during that year. The next year Brad Hatfield joined us but left before we got into junior high.

In the seventh grade we had Jeri Brown, Tom Cox, and Kenneth Jones for a short time and they left before the year was over.

For the next two years we consisted of: Kendra, Larry, Lee, Grant, Ginger, Kelly, and Ron.

As sophomores we were joined by Rick Pettit, Linda Samler, and Carol Allen but Kelly left us. Shelley Hunt was here for a short while before leaving for other schools.

Next year Grant, Ron, and Rick left us but Shelley was back and Kevin Smith rejoined us after going to school in Kansas.

As seniors Carol left us but seven seniors graduated from Haigler High School May 19, 1976. The students were Lee Goodell, Shelley Hunt, Kendra Mann, Linda Samler, Kevin Smith, Ginger Trembly, and Larry Webster.

CLASS PROPHECY

Ten years have elapsed since this small class of 4 girls and 3 boys have walked the halls of Haigler High School. This group is meeting for their first reunion. After the former Kendra Mann presents the main speech, each member of the class of '76 steps forward and accounts for their activities.

Kendra Mann attended Kearney State College where she graduated with a degree in Education. While she was there however she found a fellow who could talk faster than she and therefore she had taught only two years when she decided a family was more exciting. She presently has two children.

Shelley Hunt attended Voc. Tech. school at North Platte and then decided housekeeping was easier and married a former graduate Larry Trembly. They now have three children and maybe more?.

Linda Samler married right after graduation and she is now chasing children in the Sandhills and trying to keep them out of the irrigation sprinklers. I believe she said her husbands name was Rick and they have three children.

Virginia Trembly was another who decided housekeeping and a family were great. She married right out of school and I believe I count 6 children outside the door.

Kevin Smith tried several occupations but none seemed to be as relaxing as the seat of a truck. He is now hauling livestock and grain in his new Mack. It has a hydraulic grain unloader and an automatic livestock prod.

Larry Webster and Lee Goodell both found farming and ranching a pleasurable occupation and after marriage decided to settle in the Haigler Valley. By the looks of their new boots and hats I would say they had been successful.

After many exchanges of high school days and a few barley pop's the group decided to meet in another ten years and again see what old memories they could relive.

SENIOR CLASS WILL

I, Lee Goodell, will my shy and quiet ways to Craig Kamla and my ability to get along with others to the girls.

I, Kendra Mann, will my ability to "raise heck" to Janice and Julia Relph and my friendliness to Jeff Olson and Ellen Peterson.

I, Linda Samler, will my squirrely ways to Jeff Olson and my chickenness to Nancy Erdman.

I, Virginia Trembly, will my quietness to Dianna Brunswick.

I, Larry Webster, will my height to Jerry David and my boots and hat to Gary Nelson.
